San Antonio Alamo Area Local 195 Proudly Celebrates Black History Month

REMEMBER, EDUCATE, CELEBRATE.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

February is not just another Month, it is the month that we in America celebrate Black History Month. The theme for Black History Month in 2019 is "Black Migrations" tracking the continuous movement of blacks from the American South to the industrialized North and beyond.

We need to take time to reflect on all the achievements and contributions that black people have accomplished over the many years of struggle. Our country needs to start understating the accomplishments and contributions that black people have done.

This country needs to properly give proper credit and praise the people that helped shape the landscape of America. The development of this celebration and its names over the years reveal differences in views of the population and how we distinguish the heritage of racism and fundamental disadvantage faced by black people in the United States. One criticism lies within the educational system that continues to poorly represent black historical figures as slaves or colonial subjects. I challenge you the reader to go and do some research and see how America was built, defended and continued in being that shining beacon on the hill.

Black History should not be confined to just one month rather it should be a yearlong observance of the triumphs and achievements of the black community.
